Join us in Summer 2017 and experience something unique at UAL. UAL International Summer School is an intensive three-week summer residential course designed to provide an introduction to art college, offering you the opportunity to study at all six UAL colleges;

Camberwell College of Arts

Central St Martins

Chelsea College of Arts

London College of Communication

London College of Fashion

Wimbledon College of Arts

No other programme will see you working across the whole of UAL.

Throughout the three-week programme, you will be helped to build and create work for a portfolio for university application, generating ideas and concepts that reflect a given theme and you will create a range of work experimenting with scale, texture and colour via the mediums of drawing, sketching, mark-making, photography, 2D and 3D collage and modelling.

Through a range of lectures, you will also meet with lots of UAL staff, current students and graduates. These discussions will help you build confidence and guide you in producing a portfolio of work.

Accommodation will be provided at Sketch House – one of the University's new Halls of Residence, from where you can explore the rich heritage and social diversity of the capital, through art and design projects.

This summer, what can you create?
